MedtecLIVE is the leading platform for the European medtech industry, providing a central meeting point for suppliers to the medical technology sector, their users and customers.

At the medical technology trade fair MedtecLIVE, from May 5 to 7, 2026 in Stuttgart, solution-oriented future thinkers who exhibit innovative processes in the manufacture of the latest medical technology will meet. In addition to the latest processes, components, materials and services from the entire value chain, the focus will be on personal networking.
